

Supplemental Figure 1: Pyruvate has most pronounced effect of key central metabolites on the induction of the exoproteome. USA300 was cultured in YC media supplemented with either glucose, pyruvate, lactate, acetate, or glutamate, normalized to equal molar concentrations of carbon corresponding to 2% pyruvate and used to assess: the growth curve (A) and exoprotein profile at post-exponential growth phase (B).